BURLINGTON HIGH SCHOOL

DEDICATION

Respectfully dedicated to the memory of ALLAN HANN, our classmate, for whom the first gold star hangs in our service flag.

RAYMOND E. PERKINS

To the Seniors:

Twelve long years you have striven to win this victory that comes to you on graduation day. To you it should be, and no doubt is, a very important victory. It is deserving of the celebration you give to it. However, remember that this victory is only one victory on the road toward your ultimate victory—"Success in Life."

To the members of this class that are helping to bring about a major victory for our country goes special praise. They are winning minor victories nearly every day both in Europe and in the Pacific, but these victories are only small parts of the pattern which when put together, means complete victory.

Likewise, as victories come to you, as they surely must with your type of spirit, each one of you will find new and greater challenges. How is this victory today going to help you to win a victory tomorrow? Already you are challenged as to what you are going to do with your life. From now on the outcome is placed more and more in your hands. Will you remain a follower or grow to become a leader?

RAYMOND E. PERKINS,
Superintendent of Schools and
Principal of the High School.

CLIFFORD WALTON BAILEY

"Wally"

We all remember "Wally" and his overwhelming curiosity.

Pet Peeve: Home work.

Favorite Sport: Baseball.

Secret Ambition: To command his own ship.

Intention for next year: You'd be surprised.

PAUL TIMOTHY BREEN

"Buddy"

"Silence is golden"

This phrase applies very well to our quiet little sailor.

Pet Peeve: Vulgarity.

Favorite Sport: Basketball.

Secret Ambition: You guess.

Intention for next year: Ask Joy.

WALTER BROUSSARD

"Wally"

Everybody respects a mannerly fellow and "Wally" has been honored for this at Burlington.

Pet Peeve: Matrimony.

Favorite Sport: Post Office.

Secret Ambition: To raise pigs.

Intention for next year: To work with Rosie the Riveter.

FRED PAUL BRUNDIGE

"Fi Fi"

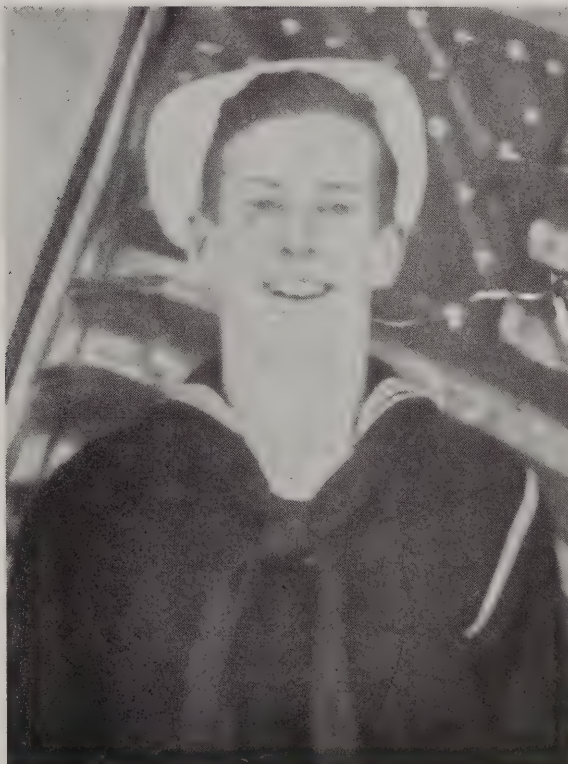

"Freddie" is always in mischief. Heaven only knows where he learned it all.

Pet Peeve: Atlas taking away my business.

Favorite Sport: Hockey.

Secret Ambition: To be a Junior G-Man.

Intention for next year: To be a garbage collector.

WALTER WARREN FREDERICK

"Wally"

Money is a spark in every man's pocket, and as our class treasurer "Wally's" pockets are still good and so is our treasury.

Pet Peeve: Teachers in general.

Favorite Sport: Fishing.

Secret Ambition: To be a family man. (it says here)

Intention for next year: To attend Radio School.

EVANGELOS GEORGE GALINOS

"Angie"

There's nothing like a good argument to keep a fellow going. Do you still use this system in the Navy, "Angie"?

Pet Peeve: People who can't stand a good argument.

Favorite Sport: Chasing girls.

Secret Ambition: To be the Mayor of Burlington.

Intention for next year: To be a civilian.

LEO VINCENT MAGUIRE

"Mickey"

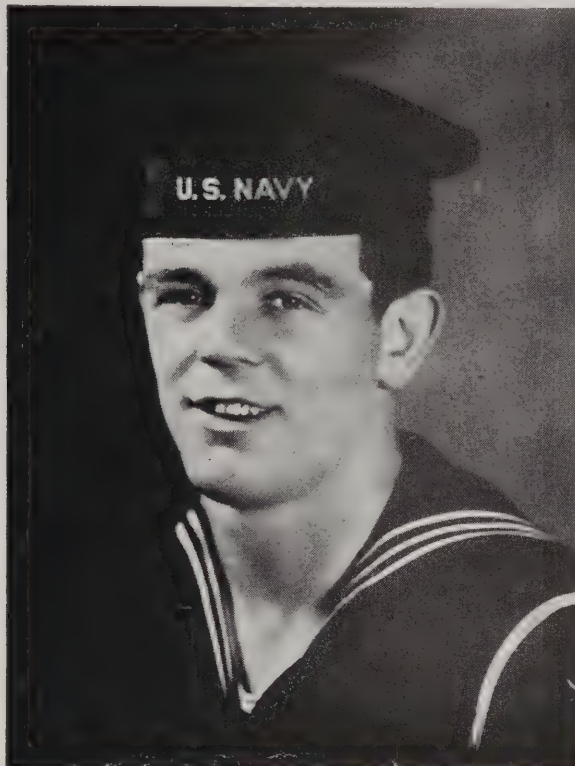

"Mickey's" manly physique is the envy of all girls.

Pet Peeve: Eating Navy steak.

Favorite Sport: Wolfing.

Secret Ambition: To hit Sinatra with a rotten tomato.

Intention for next year: To be a sewer cleaner.

IRVING HORWOOD NELSON

"Fat"

"Fat" was always a fine fellow and a good sport. What else can we girls ask for?

Pet Peeve: People who sign their own warning slips.

Favorite Sport: Jumping over desks.

Secret Ambition: To be a guard in the State Penitentiary.

Intention for next year: To become an admiral.

RICHARD EMANUEL RYAN

"Richie"

He is small in size but great in spirit.

Pet Peeve: Quiet boys.

Favorite Sport: Baseball.

Secret Ambition: To have a race with "Superman."

Intention for next year: To grow a mustache as nice as Clark Gable's.

ROBERT SULLIVAN

"Sully"

His cute laugh and clownish tricks really came in handy — especially in U. S. History.

Pet Peeve: Class meetings.

Favorite Sport: Hockey.

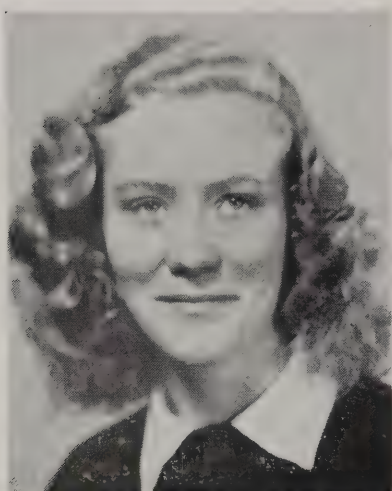

Secret Ambition: To be a leader of men. (foreman of W.P.A.)

Intention for next year: To be a C.P.O.

"The Seniors of '45"

Ahead
Together

EVELYN BLANCH ANDERSON

"Ev"

Her golden curls are the envy of us girls.

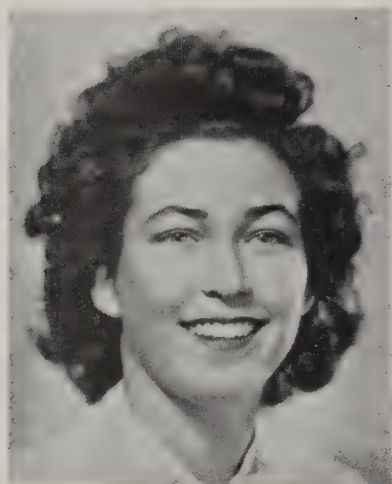

Pet Peeve: Getting up early.

Secret Ambition: To go to work.

Favorite Sport: Skating.

Intention for next year: To work.

Senior Activities: Dance Committees, Yearbook staff.

INEZ JANET BLACK

"Blackie"

She is a good class secretary, even if the minutes weren't in on time.

Pet Peeve: Noisy girls.

Secret Ambition: To go through the tunnel of love.

Favorite Sport: Baseball.

Intention for next year: To take life easy.

Senior Activities: Basketball team, Dance committees, yearbook staff.

CYNTHIA COBB BUSSEY

How we seniors envy that large vocabulary!

Pet Peeve: Waiting for people.

Secret Ambition: To be a P.A.A. ground hostess.

Intention for next year: To attend Colby Junior College.

Senior Activities: Dance committees, Yearbook staff, cheerleader.

MARY LOUISE COLLEY

Sometimes "brains and looks" go together and this is one case.

Pet Peeve: "Know-it-alls."

Secret Ambition: To take a trip to Switzerland.

Favorite Sport: Skating.

Intention for next year: To go to work.

Senior Activities: Dance committees, Yearbook staff.

WALTER WARREN FREDERICK "Wally"

Money is a spark in every man's pocket, and as our class treasurer "Wally's" pockets are still good and so is our treasury.

Pet Peeve: Teachers in general.

Favorite Sport: Fishing.

Secret Ambition: To be a family man. (it says here)

Intention for next year: To go to Radio School.

Senior Activities: Dance committees.

LOUISE ANNA GOVONI "Tiny"

A tiny figure and a sweet voice is an asset to any girl.

Pet Peeve: People who won't listen to reason.

Secret Ambition: To grow three inches.

Favorite Sport: Dancing.

Intention for next year: To fill out a little.

Senior Activities: Dance committee, Yearbook staff.

JOHN SCOTT KENDALL

"Johnnie"

Because of his friendly disposition, detention hall would be lost without him.

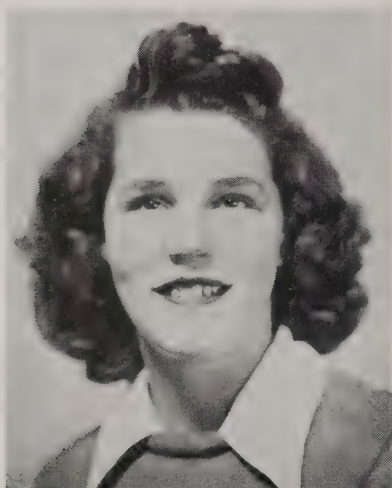

Pet Peeve: Barking dogs.

Secret Ambition: To muss up Mr. Mead's hair.

Favorite Sport: Swimming.

Intention for next year: To go into the service.

Senior Activities: Yearbook staff, Dance committees.

We have all met a handsome man, but none with Johnnie's overwhelming disposition.

Pet Peeve: Snobs.

Secret Ambition: To slam a revolving door.

Intention for next year: To join the service.

Senior Activities: Basketball team, Yearbook staff, Dance committee.

GERALDINE CHRISTINE SEMINATORE "Jean"

Jean is a newcomer to our gang but in her one short year she has added much to our class.

Pet Peeve: Dirty teeth.

Secret Ambition: To be a dress designer and model clothes she designs.

Intention for next year: Undecided.

Senior Activities: Yearbook staff, Cheer leader.

IONA SHIRLEY SKELTON

"Skel"

Every basketball team needs a good manager and she was it.

Pet Peeve: Gas rationing.

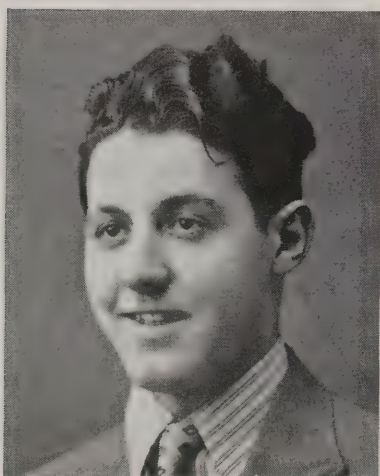

Secret Ambition: To have a full tank of gas.

Favorite Sport: Basketball.

Senior Activities: Basketball manager.

Intention for next year: To become a human being.

Senior Activities: Basketball manager, vice-president, Year-book editor.

JOHN JACK SOUSA

"Jackie"

"Jackie" is a new comer to our class and he was heartily welcomed since room 202 was so shy on boys.

Pet Peeve: Girls who play post office.

Secret Ambition: To invent a typewriter that doesn't make errors.

Favorite Sport: Basketball.

Intention for next year: To join the Army.

Senior Activities: Basketball team, Yearbook staff.

JOY CHRISTINE STEENBLIK

"Steamboat"

She keep the class going with her friendly giggle.

Pet Peeve: Slanderers.

Secret Ambition: To keep smiling.

Favorite Sport: Horseback riding.

Intention for next year: To learn something.

Senior Activities: Basketball team, Yearbook staff, Dance committee.

ROBERT SULLIVAN

"Sully"

His cute laugh and clownish tricks really came in handy especially in U. S. History class.

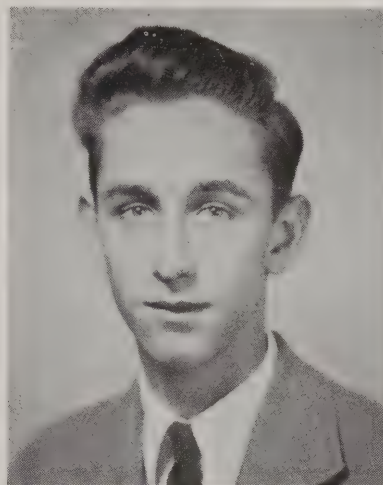

Pet Peeve: Class meetings.

Secret Ambition: To be a leader of man. (Foreman of WPA)

Favorite Sport: Hockey.

Intention for next year: To be a C. P. O.

Senior Activities: Basketball team, Class president, Dance committees.

JOSEPH PAUL WALLACE

"Jo-Jo"

His helpful hints and artistic ability helped us out.

Pet Peeve: Snobs.

Secret Ambition: To be the president.

Favorite Sport: Skating.

Intention for next year: To win the war.

Senior Activities: Poster committees, Dance committees, Yearbook staff.

RUTH WILES

"Ruthie"

We admire her ability to sleep through history class without getting caught. (Nice to sit where the teacher can't see you!)

Pet Peeve: High heels with slacks and a fur coat.

Secret Ambition: To run a school with no detention hall.

Favorite Sport: Skating.

Intention for next year: To do something.

Senior Activities: Dance committee, Yearbook staff.

CLASS SONG

Twelve long years have passed away,
And now the day is here
To say good-bye to Burlington High
And all our friends so dear.

Let's stop a while to say a prayer
For all our classmates dear
Who heard the call of Uncle Sam
And left without a fear.

So we'll go forward bold and strong
To work with all our souls
And with the thoughts of our own school
We're sure to reach our goals.

As now to Burlington High School
We say our last good bye,
The memory of our high school days
Will ever before us lie.

CLASS PROPHECY

Extra! Extra! Read all about it. New Machine invented. It is guaranteed to take you into the future for twelve hours.

A group of students from the Burlington High School are to be the first to try it. They are to try to find the members of the class of "45" and see what they are doing. They are gathered around the machine now. It is set for 1965. A button is pressed and they find themselves on a street in Burlington.

The old home town has grown by leaps and bounds and it is now a large city composed of two theaters and other important buildings which are centered around an enormous dairy. These have assumed skyscraper proportions.

As they walk up the street, spellbound they look in the windows of the stores and office buildings. The first place they come to is the "Eat All You Want Restaurant." As they look through the window, they see "Dot" McDevitt seated at a table with three small children. They seem to be very noisy and are grubbing for food. "Dot" is telling them how she gave up a career as a model to marry their father and now he has gone to Reno and left her. Just then a waiter, Walter Frederick, appears singing "What Will You Have?" He is a singing waiter, the best around even though he never made radio. As a hobby he invents things and has just completed a machine that does all your thinking for you.

Wending their way up toward a theater, they see a sign reading: "Come In, Special Today, Free of Charge." Upon entering the lobby they find that Hollywood's best stars are playing in a stage version of "The Good Old Days of '45". Starring in the production are Dorothea LaCrosse and Joseph Wallace. By listening to people talk, they learn that "Joe" and "Dot" are man and wife in real life. After three hours of complete relaxation, their attention is drawn to manager John Sousa. This is the nearest he ever came to movie fame, and they discern that he would like to be in "Joe's" place not only on the screen.

A large crowd has gathered around the steps of City Hall to listen to the wise and guiding words of Mayor Kendall, who, like many other mayors, doesn't practice what he preaches. The subject this time is: "The Evils of the Gambling World." Imagine this from a man who we all know has half interest in the largest gambling house in the country!

The crowd seems to be tiring of this haranguing and moves toward a large field in the rear of the hall. Ringling Brothers have brought their first circus to Burlington, and Mary Colley, of all people, is calling out the performances that are to appear next. She has become one of the most talkative people in Burlington and finds that by being a barker for the circus, she can talk more than in any other position. As they walk through the sideshows, they see Louise Govoni, the fattest woman in the world, weighing 532 pounds. Seated beside her is Irving Nelson, who weighs a mere 85 pounds. The big show starts and the first number is a trapeze act done by Robert Sullivan and John Ryan. On roller skates, they glide across ropes which zigzag through the air. The next performance is a lion and tiger training act. The trainer is "Dot" McKinnon assisted by Walter Broussard. They make a tiger and lion advance together across the ring and perform many other exciting tricks.

Now that the main show is over, a tour of the stars' tents is in order. Joy Steenblik, sword swallower for the circus, is reading a letter from her husband Paul Breen. He tells her that "Angie" Galinos, Richard Ryan and he have been very successful on their trip into the African jungle and have found many animal skeletons and other fossils.

As it is starting to grow dark they decide to walk on up the street to see what else is happening. They keep walking until they come to the South End of the town. It is very shabby here, the main attraction being a small, dingy theater. Outside they see Cynthia Bussey selling apples and flowers, although she is really the owner of the dairy, located in the best part of the town. She likes this job because it brings her in contact with many different types of people. Cynthia advises that we enter the theater to hear Evelyn Anderson singing on the stage. She has taken an assumed name and is trying to have a rest from her career in the Metropolitan Opera House. Besides, she wants to find out how it feels to work in a second rate place. Evelyn's exit is Ruth Wiles' entrance cue and the lady appears for her famous tap dance, "The Wild Frolic of Ruth." Assisting her is Inez Black who likes to get away at night from her job as history teacher at the Burlington High School.

As they walk out of the theater, they meet Leo Maguire, who is a Hollywood Talent Scout. He is disguised as a tramp but they recognize him, and he tells them that he has decided to sign Inez up for a big part in "Don't Let Your Feet Touch The Ground" to be produced by M.G.M.

Darkness has fallen now and the tired soothsayers wend their way to the nearest hotel. There they see Iona Skelton, who is now Lady Brightesham, the wife of one of the richest men in England. Because of her so-called social position she doesn't recognize any of them. In the dining room is Geraldine Seminare. She does waitress work as a side-line, but her real occupation is a chemist in the fish laboratories.

Well, it is now 11:30 and only half an hour is left of this gaze into the future so they hurry out into the street again. Fred Brundige is just starting off in his home-built helicopter. It is fashioned into a lunch wagon and he travels from place to place in it with his cook Walton Bailey. Like migratory birds they go South in the winter and come North in the summer.

The clock strikes 12 and the students find themselves back in the present where they relate to us what they saw. What a future to anticipate!

HERE WE WERE IN THE SIXTH GRADE

CLASS HISTORY

It was in the year 1933 that an ambitious group of "scholars" entered the first grade of Burlington Grammar School. They went through their first year with great success under the leadership of Miss Buchanan and Miss Keene.

The second, third, fourth and fifth years were finally passed with the "scholars" leaving behind them a little of their enthusiasm for their former teachers: Miss Bustead, Miss Conley, Miss Foster, Miss Wyman and Miss Porter.

When the sixth year of our educational journey came around, we had Miss Pearsons for our teacher. Little did we know we were to be blessed with her teachings for two more years.

The seventh year brought around an important event in our lives. We were going to start classes in the brand new Burlington High School. During that happy year Joy

Steenblik joined us. The next two years rolled along at an even pace, and we were finally going into the ninth grade. Remember the end of that year, when triumphantly successful we graduated with highest honors—or were they high? It was in that bright year that our little "canary", Louise Govoni, joined us.

When we entered the tenth grade and began our last three years of school — m-m-m-m-, were the "scholars" happy! That year with all its joys brought on a very sad event when some of our boys left to fight for our country.

Before we realized it we were in the eleventh grade. As the days went by, more of our classmates left to help the others in fighting this war. We may miss them, but we are very proud of the boys over there.

Because of the war many of our customary activities were curtailed, but we did have some "juke" box dances, and one old fashioned social which was very much enjoyed. We also had our class outing, but because of transportation difficulties, we had to content ourselves with Revere Beach. Do you remember how cold it was and the long wait we had for buses at every square? However, the fun we had was worth all the trouble that went with it.

The months rolled on and the "scholars" could hardly believe it was true when they entered the senior home room with Miss Burke as home room teacher.

An outstanding event this year was our Christmas Social which was in the form of an old fashioned and modern dance with music by La Crosse's orchestra. Although it entailed much work for the committee, we feel that it was a social and financial success and we thank them for swelling our treasury.

It was this year also that a band was formed under the direction of Mr. Samuel Quagenti. Their first concert was given at a Christmas assembly which showed what outstanding progress had been made by the students in a few short weeks under expert guidance.

Also this year we had dancing at lunch time. It was a pleasure which many of us enjoyed during the days which were too unpleasant to go outside.

This saga of our class would be most incomplete if we did not include some mention of our girls' basketball team and their outstanding success this season. Because of their winning scores, they were invited to participate in the tournament which was held at Littleton. Although they lost their first game, much praise is due them for their good sportsmanship and fair play. The close score showed a good game well played. Much credit for the team's success goes to their coach, Miss Edith Bouttillette, and their manager, Miss Iona Skelton, who worked unceasingly for their success.

Now when we remember our previous years of schooling, and are eagerly looking forward to "being on our own", we thank all teachers and friends who have made possible and profitable our journey.

CLASS POEM

Until now our life has been quite gay
Without a care or worry in our minds,
But now we're looking forward to the day
When we again can witness peaceful times.

We miss the boys who had to go to war
And help to keep our homes in human hands;
But God knows what these boys are fighting for
So He'll be with them in those foreign lands.

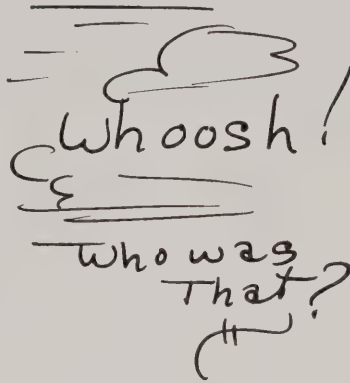

Life is more than playing on the teams
And we have many other things to do.
For many years we've had some precious dreams
And now we'll do our best to make them true.

We want to thank our parents, classmates, friends
And teachers who were always at our side,
For they have taught us how to meet all trends
And now we're ready for this world so wide.

So now that this big day is really here,
We close our books and walk down to the door,
But in our eyes we feel a little tear
As we wonder what the future has in store.

CLASS WILL

We, the class of 1945, being of strong back and weak mind do hereby leave all our unearthly possessions to the under class men.

Individually these are:

I, Evelyn Anderson, leave my ability to like the teachers to be divided evenly with everyone on the high school. This is where it can be used the most.

I, Walton Bailey, leave to Helen Seminatore my overwhelming generosity in hope that it will benefit her in later years.

I, Inez Black, leave my teeth to start a fund of replacements for all future B. H. S. football, basketball and baseball players who lose their own.

I, Paul Breen, leave my pleasant personality and knowledge of getting and keeping friends to Audrey Crockett.

I, Walter Broussard, leave my ability to attract the out of town girls to Thomas Lusk. I hope you do as well as I did, Tom.

I, Fred Brundige, leave my ability to keep small to Irving McLaughlin. May you benefit by it, old boy!

I, Cynthia Bussey, leave my ability to talk and talk and talk when there's nothing to say to Gloria Harris. This should keep her out of trouble.

I, Mary Colley, leave my silent and soft spoken ways to Barbara Cooke. (shhh-hhhh)

I, Walter Frederick, leave my beard to "Ed" O'Mahoney, I konw he'll be proud.

I, Evangelos Galinos, leave my argumentative powers to Rita Govoni. May they be a benefit to her in Mr. Mead's classes.

I, Louise Govoni, leave my ability to attract members of the opposite sex to Doris Halajian. Have fun, old girl.

I, John Kendall, leave my assortment of laughs, hiccups, coughs, giggles, yelps, howls, moans and groans to "Billy" Sheerin in hope that he will make all classes bearable to the students and unbearable to the teacher. Carry on, "Bill".

I, Dorothea LaCrosse, leave my ability to get the baskets to Lillian Kelly. Keep the scores up, Lil.

I, Leo Maguire, leave my manly physique to Jimmy Wiles. Just take it easy and don't make Sinatra feel too bad, Jimmy.

I, Dorothy McDevitt, leave my graceful flowing red locks to Donald Croteau. I know he will appreciate them.

I, Dorothy McKinnon, leave my wisdom and knowledge to "Ed" O'Mahoney. We don't want him to be a stupid cop.

I, Irving Nelson, leave my ability to jump over desks to Irene Fontaine. This ought to keep your girlish figure for you, Irene.

I, John Ryan, leave my size thirteen shoes to Kenneth Miller and Harry Pederson to use for boots when they are fishing or hunting.

I, Richard Ryan, leave my ability to keep the class from being dull to all members of the faculty. This is to prevent the students from getting gray hair in their younger days.

I, Geraldine Seminatore, leave my ability to always know what the home work is to Ernest Swanson. Perhaps he will need it later on.

I, Iona Skelton, leave my ability to judge when the teacher is wrong to Joan Reed. I hope you can use it to better advantage than I did.

I, John Sousa, leave my dark wavy hair to Harry Pederson. Remember, "Pete", no hair tonic.

I, Joy Steenblik, leave my seat in the detention hall to Ruth McKenzie. Keep it warm, Ruth.

I, Robert Sullivan, leave my ability to dance (1 and 2 and 1 and 2) to Ronald Busted. This, no doubt, will be a big improvement.

I, Joseph Wallace, leave my ability to be calm and quiet at all times to Russell Morrison. No doubt he needs it.

I, Ruth Wiles, leave my little book of schemes and plans to skip school to any sophomore or junior who wants it. Don't fight, folks, you can share it.

1 Irving Nelson 2 Evelyn Anderson 3 John Sousa 4 Iona Shelton 5 "Dot" McDevitt 6 Mary Colly 7 "Bud" Breen and Joy Steenblik 8 Dot McDevitt.

GIRLS' SOFTBALL

1st row, left to right: J. Graham, M. Ellsworth, L. Kelly, I. Black, D. LaCrosse, D. McKinnon, J. Steenblik, G. Seminatore.
2nd row, left to right: Miss Boutillette, J. Reed, H. McLaughlin, H. Seminatore, M. Chaplin, M. DeMone, M. Merrigan, B. Seminatore, I. Skelton.

As this book goes to press plans are being made for the girls' softball team. Coach Boutillette has charge of this group and is expecting that a large number will turn out. Here's hoping they have a successful season.

BOYS' BASEBALL

2nd row, left to right: Mr. Lalli, J. Sousa, J. Rogers, G. Perkins, F. LaCrosse, R. Garibotto.

Since there is a great enthusiasm for baseball this year, it's expected a large group will turn out. Because many of the boys are entering military service, we need more boys to take their places. Coach Lalli will supervise and coach with Mr. Perkins as varsity coach.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

1st row, left to right: M. Merrigan, D. McKinnon, K. Black, D. LaCrosse, L. Kelley, M. DeMone, M. Chaplin.

2nd row, left to right: J. Steenblik, M. Ellsworth, J. Graham, I. Skelton, Mgr., E. Boutillette, coach; B. Seminatore, H. McLaughlin, J. Reed.

The girls' team has played as never before coming up with a record of eight wins and one loss. This excellent record led them to the tournament at Littleton where the outcome was Burlington 27 and Acton 28. The schedule is as follows:

Jan. 5	Burlington 21	Billerica	20	Feb. 2	Burlington 36	Tewksbury	23
9	Burlington 53	Chelmsford	39	6	Burlington 22	Wilmington	30
12	Burlington 27	Tewksbury	25	6	Burlington 48	Wilmington	26
19	Burlington 53	Dracut	38	23	Burlington 41	Dracut	30
26	Burlington 30	Chelmsford	46	26	Burlington 77	Lowell	17
				27	Burlington 27	Acton	28

BOYS' BASKETBALL

1st row, left to right: D. Nelson, K. Foster, E. Swanson, L. McAllister, W. Waldroup, J. Ryan, J. Sousa.

2nd row, left to right: Mr. Perkins, coach; R. Ray, J. Rogers, G. Perkins, R. Piper, R. Garibotto, mgr.; F. LaCrosse, R. McLaren, N. DeMone, Mr. Lalli, varsity coach.

Despite the shortage of a football team, the boys formed a solid basketball team. With Mr. Lalli and Mr. Perkins as coaches and "Bud" McAllister as captain the team had a successful season although they didn't have many wins. The schedule is as follows:

Jan. 5	Burlington 16	Billerica 37	Jan. 31	Burlington 28	Westford 27
9	Burlington 11	Chelmsford 62	Feb. 1	Burlington 15	Wilmington 25
12	Burlington 26	Tewksbury 33	1	Burlington 32	Wilmington 24
19	Burlington 20	Dracut 23	2	Burlington 20	Tewksbury 37
26	Burlington 12	Chelmsford 43	23	Burlington 12	Dracut 34

CHEER LEADERS

1st row, left to right: C. Bussey, J. Vigneau, J. Reed, D. McDevitt.
2nd row, left to right: F. LaCrosse, G. Seminatore, J. Rogers.

BAND

1st row, left to right: J. Reed, N. DeMone, B. Oldford, D. Foley, R. Makenzie, E. Smith.

APPRECIATION

The Senior class of 1945 wish to express their appreciation to all who have contributed to the success of their book. Without the support of patrons, patronesses and the advertisers it would be quite impossible to have the yearbook.

We also wish to thank Miss G. R. Burke, our faculty advisor, who has worked unceasingly for our success.
